/status: showed my Claude Code version, the session name (expense-tracker), working directory, active model Sonnet 5, total session cost ($1.68), and how much of my context window was used (5%).

/doctor: Ran a health check on my install and said it was a clean native install with no skills, plugins, MCP servers, or CLAUDE.md files set up, an outdated version (2.1.277), and two suggested fix to set auto mode as the default permission mode and reset Claude to get an update.

/diff: Told me the current directory is not a git repository, so there were no git changes to show. I should have put it in a GitHub repo.
